State Treasurer Does Not Hold It Proper Expenditure

MADISON (AP) — State treasurer Dena Smith stopped payment today of a $3,500 check to cover costs of a federal court suit to force reapportionment of Wisconsin's political districts.

In letters to Gov. Gaylord Nelson and Atty. Gen. John Reynolds, Mrs. Smith said that under state law she did not regard the check "a proper expenditure." Nelson and Reynolds are Democrats. Mrs. Smith is a Republican.

Reynolds ordered the check drawn to pay court fees of five Waukesha County residents in whose name he brought the reapportionment suit.

Challenges Validity
"If the state is one of six plaintiffs in this case," Mrs. Smith said, "then it would seem to me that the expense of this lawsuit should be divided evenly between the six plaintiffs."

"Therefore, I must advise you, that as treasurer of the state of Wisconsin I do not feel the check for $3,500 is a proper expenditure under the statutes, and until such time as legal counsel is appointed to advise me otherwise, I cannot sign the check," the treasurer concluded.

There was no immediate comment from Reynolds. The governor is in Washington today.

9 Injured in 2 Milwaukee Fires

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Separate two-alarm fires—one in what was described as an old mansion—left nine persons injured and caused damage of $50,000 Sunday.

The fire in the old residence, converted to a three-family unit, broke out about 5 p.m. In addition to the two alarms there were two calls for special equipment.

The lone occupant of the building escaped unharmed, but six firemen suffered burns or were felled by smoke. Three of the firemen remained in hospitals overnight while the others were released after treatment.

A battalion fire chief who estimated the loss at $40,000 said there was no immediate information on the case.

The first blaze was reported several hours earlier and burned out an apartment in a combination apartment and business building on the South Side. Two occupants of the building and a fireman were treated for smoke day inhalation.

Boy's Phone Call Tells of 2 Shootings

ALEXANDRIA, Va. (AP)—"Operator, can you help me? Will you call the police for me?" asked the small voice on the telephone.

"What's the matter, honey?" asked operator Nina Shaw early Sunday.

"There's blood all over my mommy's bedroom. There's a gun laying on the bed pointing at daddy. Mommy said something to me, but now she doesn't talk any more."

Alarmed, Mrs. Shaw asked the youngster for his name and address. Then Mrs. Shaw held 6-year-old Clancy Cottman on the line while she called police headquarters.

Moments later detectives arrived at the Cottman home. Clancy and his sister, Effie, 4, were at the door to admit them.

Man Found Dead
In the bedroom the detectives found Clarence Cottman, resident manager of the Alexandria office of Eastman Dillon, Union Securities & Co., shot to death. Beside him was the unconscious body of his wife, Beatrice. A 45-caliber colt automatic from which two shots had been fired was on the bed at Cottman's feet.

The 62-year-old broker had been shot once in his right temple. He was pronounced dead on the scene. His 43-year-old wife had been wounded by a slug that pierced her left cheek and lodged in the left side of her head.

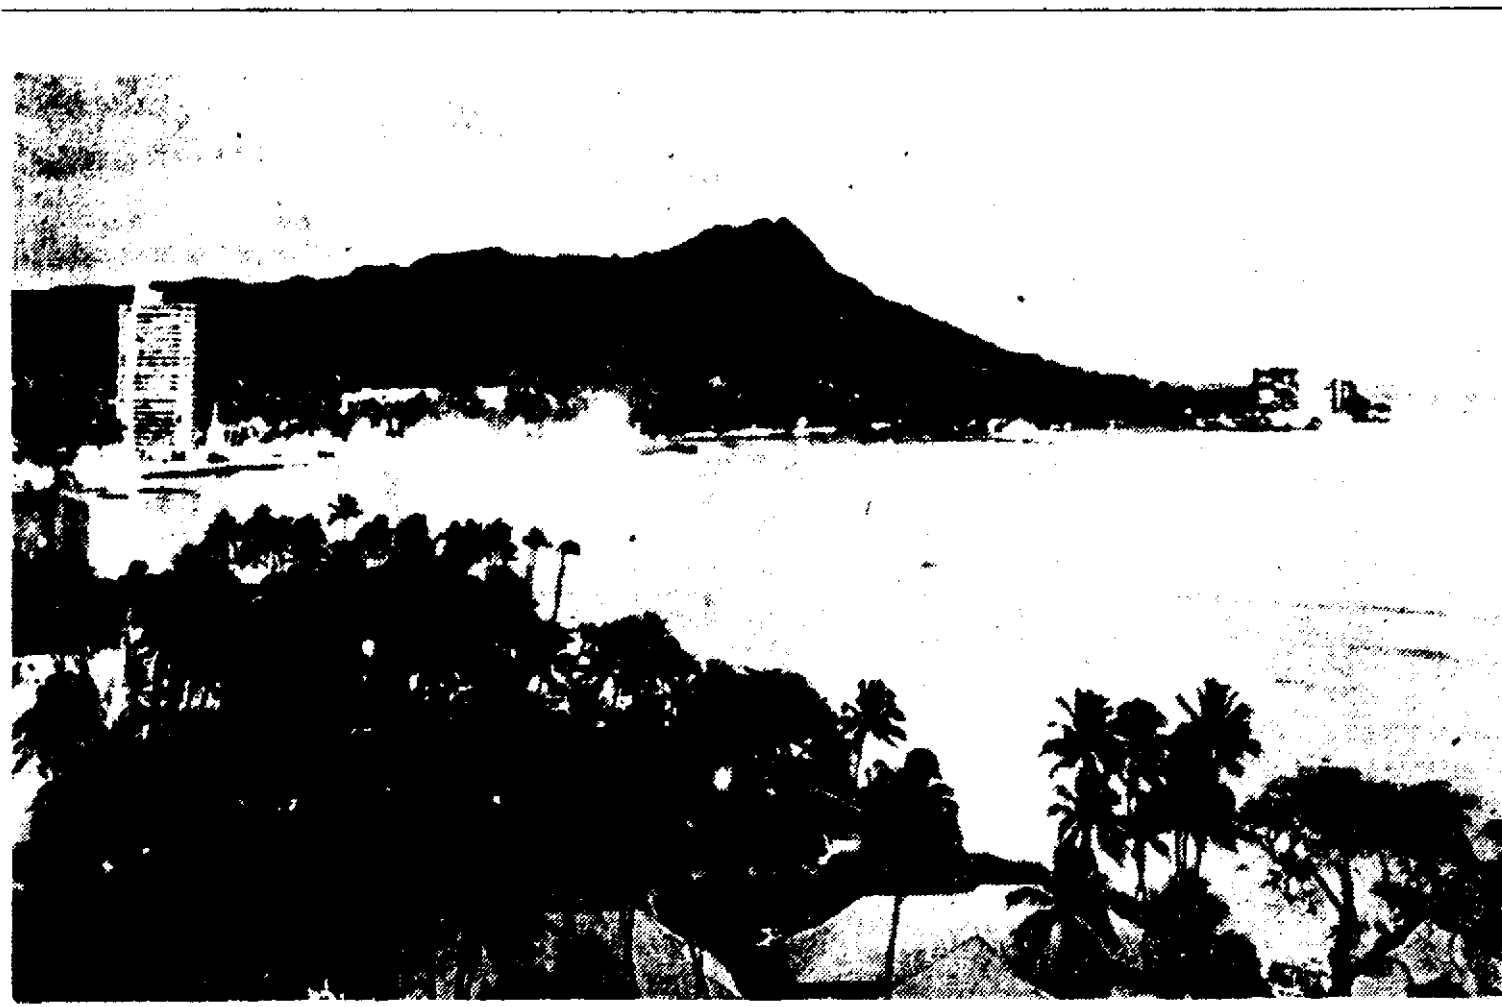

She was taken to Alexandria Hospital where she told police that she and her husband had gotten up about 4 a.m. for a cup of coffee when Cottman complained he was unable to sleep.

Wrong Number Brings Tragedy to Father

BRENTWOOD, N.Y. (AP)—The telephone rang and John Schuerer ran inside to answer it, leaving his 1-year-old daughter, Bevon, alone in the back yard. She climbed into a small pool of water and drowned in his absence Sunday.

The call was a wrong number.

Vast Area Over Pacific Sees Night Turn Into Day In Spectacular U. S. Test

HONOLULU (AP)—A powerful hydrogen bomb exploded 200 miles above the earth and lit the reaches of the Pacific from Hawaii to Australia for six minutes starting at 11 p.m. Sunday night (4 a.m. Eastern Standard Time today).

It marked success on the third try by the United States for a high-altitude test from tiny Johnston Island.

The Atomic Energy Commission in Washington at first would say only that the explosion involved a nuclear device. Later it confirmed it would be proper to call it a thermonuclear explosion and use the term thermonuclear device.

Hydrogen bomb explosions are brought about by a fusion of atoms.

In England, the explosion was criticized and defended. But Dr. R. C. Sutcliffe of the Meteorology Office Department of Research, said the blast was too high to disturb the world's weather.

Hole in Ionosphere
As anticipated, the explosion apparently knocked a hole in the ionosphere which reflects some types of radio signals from place to place on earth. Reports from the Japan indicated communications were affected. Some places were expected to be without radio communication for 32 hours. In Honolulu radio stations were washed out very briefly.

E witnesses agreed it was the most spectacular sky show they had seen. In Hawaii for six minutes the night became bright as day.

As one observer said, "for two or three seconds, it was early sunrise as the flash from the nuclear explosion above Johnston Island reached out to Hawaii."

Nine Killed in Auto Crash Near Washington, D.C.
BRANDYWINE, Md. (AP) — Nine persons were killed early today when their speeding convertible crashed into two other cars. Two other persons were injured, one critically.

One of the victims was an infant girl, who police said was born during the accident.

Maryland state police officer R. G. Grimes, chasing the convertible at the time of the accident, called the collision 15 miles south of Washington, D. C. "The worst I've seen."

Grimes said he and trooper R. C. Proctor were parked at the intersection of U. S. 301 and State 5 when two cars zipped by, doing an estimated 100 miles an hour. The officers started to chase them northward.

One of the cars pulled away from the convertible, trying to pass in a no-passing zone, bumped the rear of a second car, Grimes said. The convertible then flipped into the air and collided head-on with the oncoming third vehicle.

Cain Asks for Consideration

Lawyer Appeals To Judges Deciding Disciplinary Action

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau

MADISON — Allan Cain, Appleton, now serving a term in federal prison, after conviction for federal income tax evasion, today asked the Wisconsin Supreme Court to consider the fact of his illness during the period of his unreported income in fixing discipline for him as a state licensed lawyer.

Cain filed a reply with the court to a motion for disciplinary action asked by the State Board of Bar Commissioners, the disciplinary branch of the tribunal. The court has the power to fine, suspend, or disbar a lawyer for a violation of ethics or law.

Based on Conviction
The disciplinary motion was based on Cain's conviction in the federal district court at Milwaukee in March. His wife also was found guilty, and also is serving a term in a federal correctional institution.

Cain told the state court today that he was suffering from what he believed to be a fatal cancer during the period that he was reporting less taxable income than he actually was receiving.

After surgical treatment and when it was apparent that he was recovering his health, he said, he asked for a U. S. government audit. A request was made to an agent who was checking a specific item on his tax return, he said.

When he was later subjected to a general audit, he told the state judges, he volunteered to pay back taxes and penalties but was advised not to do so.

Cain dispatched his formal reply from a federal prison in Minnesota and asked the judges of the state court "to consider the entire record of the circumstances existing at the time of incorrect reporting of income in determining what discipline should be administered."

Mr. and Mrs. Cain were found guilty March 24 of underestimating their taxable income by $60,674 on their 1953 to 1956 tax returns, thereby evading $19,946 in taxes.

Cain was sent to Sandstone, Minn. His wife is being confined in Anderson, W. Va. In addition to the one year prison terms, they were fined $2,000 each.

Deadlock Continues In Doctors' Strike

REGINA, Sask. (AP) — Provincial government officials and striking doctors remained deadlocked today on the ninth day of the doctors' strike against the Saskatchewan medical care plan as a mass protest rally was being organized here for Wednesday.

The government has not commented on the rally sponsored by the Keep-the-Doctors committees. But Prime Minister Woodrow Lloyd has asked residents to avoid demonstrations.

State's Wind Swept Waters Claim
Six Other Lives Over Weekend

Edgar W. Lautenschlager, 47, 820 N. Meade St., was one of seven drowning victims in Wisconsin over the weekend.

Lautenschlager and two companions were just blocks from their destination on the Wolf River at Fremont Sunday when the accident occurred.

The three boaters had launched Lautenschlager's 16-foot runabout at 3:30 p.m. at Gill's Landing, Weyauwega, for a trip downriver. Edward Counts, 30, Oak Lawn, Ill., one of the companions, said that as they neared their destination, Lautenschlager moved to the rear of the boat to adjust the motor, which had been performing improperly. As Lautenschlager moved forward again he lost his balance and fell into the river when the craft was rocked by a large wave from a cabin cruiser.

Only Swimmer
Counts, the only swimmer in the party, dove in after Lautenschlager and James Olson, 33, Ray's Resort, Weyauwega, took the controls. Counts said he had Lautenschlager by the hair momentarily, but lost his grip when another large wave hit them. Bystanders said high winds were whipping whitecaps on the river at the time of the drowning.

When Counts couldn't locate Lautenschlager again, he and Olson summoned help.

The Fremont Volunteer Fire Department located the body at about 4:30 after 15 minutes of searching.

Telestar Due For Launching Effort Tuesday

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Telestar, a communications relay satellite which represents private industry's first venture into space, is scheduled to be launched Tuesday.

Bell Telephone Laboratories of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co. built the complex satellite, and will pay all costs involved in launching Telestar on a Thor-Delta rocket and tracking its orbital flight. The cost is estimated at $3 million, which Bell is to pay even if the mission fails.

If all goes as planned, television viewers in America and Western Europe will see the first live transatlantic television programs within a week, with signals relayed by Telestar.

The three major U.S. television networks are planning a 12-minute news transmission to Europe via Telestar. The European Broadcasting Union, representing 16 countries, will handle a program for beaming to the United States. The European program will originate in Brussels, Belgium, and be shot to Telestar through ground stations at Goomhilly Down, England.

Health, Aid Bills Up for Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two measures at the top of President Kennedy's legislative program—foreign aid and health care—hold the attention of Congress this week.

Senate consideration of health care for the aged under Social Security could continue into next week. The House, meanwhile, will be debating a $4.7-billion foreign aid authorization measure, with final voting scheduled for Wednesday or Thursday.

The President made a strong plea for both measures at his news conference last week.

Ben Khedda Seeks Peace In Algeria

ALGIERS (AP)—Premier Youssef ben Khedda made peace overtures today to his rebellious army supporters have taken over the Moslem section of Oran and now control most of western Algeria.

Ben Khedda sent two ministers to the Moroccan capital of Rabat to seek reconciliation with the dissident deputy premier who has been demanding looser ties with France and close links to the Communist world.

Troops Enter Oran
About 1,500 heavily armed Algerian troops flocked across the Moroccan border into Oran over the weekend and received rousing cheers as they hailed Ben Bella as the hero of Algeria's independence.

Ben Bella slogans appeared on walls throughout the Moslem quarter of Algeria's second largest city. Boy Scouts and children's groups paraded with huge portraits of the deputy premier.

No Ben Bella slogans appeared in Oran's European quarter where 97 persons died in street fighting last Thursday. French police patrolled the streets of the sector by agreement with Moslem authorities.

Europeans Try to Leave
Hundreds of Europeans from Oran lined up Sunday in a feverish effort to get plane seats for France.

French informants said about 120 Europeans were missing in city, believed held in police stations as suspected terrorists of the defunct Secret Army Organization.

Foreign Minister Saad Dahlab said in a radio broadcast Sunday night differences among Algerian leaders are "not a crisis—only a misunderstanding."

Freedom Under Castro

There is censoring, rationing, purging, restricting, nationalizing, confiscating — and complaining, whispered because of omnipresent policing.

School children are told that if Jose Marti, the father of Cuban independence were alive he would be a Communist.

Priests are silenced by the threat of expulsion. They may perform the rites of the church but are prohibited from teaching catechism, or engaging in social work.

Merchants sell dwindling food allotments at government fixed prices. The black market flourishes under cover.

Recently, Baldomero Rodriguez Corrales, of 759 Suarez Street, Havana, was arrested for refusing to sell a soft drink to a customer. Rodriguez, who was scheming to peddle the drinks at a higher price, was sentenced to 30 days in jail for committing the crime of concealing merchandise.

Laird Hits Chamber For Tax Cut Views

Demand of U.S. Body Irresponsible

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Rep. Melvin Laird, R-Marshfield, has described as "completely irresponsible" the demands of the national leadership of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce and the AFL-CIO for immediate massive tax cuts.

Laird, who is seeking reelection in the 7th District, spoke Sunday in Wisconsin Rapids at the 7th District meeting of labor's committee on political action.
Laird, a member of the House Appropriations Committee, said that if demands for heavy tax cuts were made law, the confidence in the U.S. dollar would be completely destroyed.

18 Flee Jet Seconds Before It Explodes

Plane Caught Fire, Crashes After Taking Off From Terminal

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—A Continental Airlines turbo-prop Viscount caught fire and crashed three minutes after taking off from Amarillo air terminal Sunday.
The 13 passengers and 3 crew members escaped minutes before several explosions rocked the wreckage. Several passengers suffered cuts and bruises in the wheels up landing. They were released after treatment.
Capt. Lawrence Lauratus, El Paso, Tex., the pilot said he and First Officer E. C. Gorman, El Paso, knew the plane was in trouble within a minute after they took off on a flight to Lubbock, Tex.

Neither Lauratus nor Gorman had time to make announcement over the public address system when the danger walked calmly up and down the aisle reassuring the passengers.
"She told us the pilot was going to bring the plane down," said Mrs. H. S. Dodd Jr., Andrews, Tex., who with her daughters Marilyn, 16 months, and Jacqueline, 3 years, were passengers.
"Then she walked up and down the aisle calming the passengers. She was shaken up but didn't seem to be hurt."

Miss Howard, who has been a hostess 14 months, said, "I just asked God to help get the plane down as safely as possible."
"I don't know if I was really afraid or not. There was no time for that."

Helped Out
Because the fire was in the right wing, Miss Howard decided to get the passengers out an emergency door in the rear. Harold V. Hunter, a passenger from Gardena, Calif., helped her open the door.

The plane traveled 2 1/2 miles from the end of the runway before the pilot set it down in a recently harvested wheat field.
Gene Cagle of Amarillo, who was rabbit hunting, said the plane flew over him.
"I saw fire on that one (right) engine," Cagle said. It was smoking and burning. I wonder, if they were supposed to do that. Then the fire began getting bigger and the plane nosed down.

1962 Market Decline Like Predecessors
Three Factors Give Optimists Comfort About Recovery
BY JOE BECKMAN
CHICAGO Daily News Service
CHICAGO — The 1962 stock market decline is similar in pattern to the emotional heavy-volume retreats the market made in 1929, 1937, 1946 and 1957. So says Ralph A. Rotnem, Harris, Upham & Co.
The heaviest volume days were followed by sharp rallies, he said. Close on their heels were second declines that were below the lows of the heavy volume days in most cases.
Rotnem said three factors may give some comfort to optimists. They are the crowded conditions among short sellers, the record of 16 per cent average gains from the May-June lows to the July-September highs in the last 63 years and the study showing that after the presidential honeymoon gains are canceled the market is ready for a recovery.

Great Battlefield
The $20 1/2 area in the Dow Jones Industrial average, which was tested in June has been a great battlefield for the bulls and bears, Rotnem said.
The latter won the third round and again in 1957 and pushed the bulls back 19 per cent to the 42 level by the end of 1957.
The bulls won the third round in September of 1958 when the market moved above that level and eventually to a high of 100 per cent in 1961.

Rotnem feels the present market is in a similar position where so much has been done to restore confidence and agreement on corporate earnings.

Accidents Kill Seven in State Over Weekend

Four Die in Crash Of 15-Year-Old Car In Barron County

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Highway accidents in Wisconsin during the weekend took seven lives, with one crash killing a young mother, two of her children and a sister. Another collision took two lives.

The deaths raised the state's toll for the year to 425, or three below the figure on this date last year.

Four of nine persons riding in a 15-year-old car were killed Saturday night when their auto and another collided on Barron County Trunk P, above five miles south of Cumberland. Six others were injured.

Killed were Mrs. Evelyn Moss, 27, of rural Cumberland; her son, Jessie, 8, a daughter, Betty, Ann, 4, and Rosemary Wurtinger, 11, of Rice Lake, a sister of Mrs. Moss.

Others Injured
The injured included Clyde Moss, 35, and four more of his children, Julie, 9, Yvonne, 8, Joyce, 15 months, and Kathleen, 8 months, and the driver of the other car, Vernon Lake, 31, of Barronette, Wis., who was alone. All were patients at Cumberland Hospital, except Julie, the most seriously hurt, who was transferred to a Minneapolis hospital.

Barron County authorities said the crash occurred as Moss was turning into the driveway of his farm.

Ben Valenta, 54, of Milwaukee and Mrs. Margaret Berg, 48, of Chicago, were killed Sunday night in a two-car head-on collision on U.S. 141 in Manitowoc County just north of the Sheboygan County line. Mrs. Berg was a passenger in a car driven by her husband, Victor, about 50, who suffered a skull fracture and other injuries. He was taken to a Sheboygan hospital.

Mrs. Gertrude Moser, 58, of Clearwater, Fla., died in a collision in Milwaukee Saturday night.

Physical Fitness for Youth Urged by President Kennedy

HYANNIS, Port Mass. (AP) — The strength of young America can be overcome, yet, the shocking fact remains that at least 60 per cent of our children do not participate in a daily program of vigorous physical activity. This conclusively shows how much remains to be done, and this is the critical time of the year.

The President urged that school officials plan for fall semesters include programs that contribute to the health and well being of all our boys and girls.

Kennedy's statement was based on a report submitted by Bud Wilkerson, Oklahoma football coach and his consultant on youth fitness.

The report by Wilkerson summarized information obtained through pilot projects in North Dakota, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas and Pennsylvania and samples by government agencies and youth fitness council studies.

Problems Face Subletter of Kennedy Estate

MIDDLEBURG, Va. (AP) — Mrs. Paul Entenman of New York City will find out that moving in after a president can bring problems.

But subletting the Glen Ora estate here from President and Mrs. Kennedy, Mrs. Entenman gained use of the house, the furnishings, the front grounds, the swimming pool and the guest house adjoining the pool.

But she also inherited the security restrictions that surrounded the estate in the hunt country section of Virginia when the Kennedys visited. They will continue to be reported as a protection to the president's personal property as well as for the varied equipment which the government has on the grounds.

Mrs. Entenman, who has sublet Glen Ora for July and August according to a Middleburg real estate firm which negotiated the lease, will be required to identify herself each time she arrives or leaves. The same goes for any guest she might have.

As to teachers, Castro discovered that in one area the teacher holds school only one day a week.

No Vaccine
Castro's reaction when told that hog vaccine was not reaching the area was described in this manner:

"Fidel let out another oath and of course he continued to blow his top until his anger became so great that realizing he was venting his spleen on comrades who were not really at fault, he said, 'Gentlemen, I have again settled down.'"

But the commentator didn't settle down. "It is not right that it has to be Fidel himself who has to inquire and discover if vaccine is being sent to a place or if coffee technicians do not go to Baracoa or if teachers do not teach as they should."

How would you like to help your primary school child become a better reader this summer? You can do it simply by providing him with the background that gives meaning to the printed

Give your child a variety of experiences. Encourage him to observe things like a bird building her nest under the eaves or a street cleaner and his whirling machine or a ditch digger wielding a shovel.

Then talk to him about his experiences. This is your chance to help him associate the correct meanings with the words he uses.

Have him draw pictures and make up stories about them. This increases his vocabulary and conditions him to recognize words later in books.

Read to him. And read to him again. Be ready to read the Mother Goose rhymes over and over. And very important — you must enjoy reading to him. Naturally, to enjoy reading the child must live in a family where reading is enjoyed. Children follow the lead of adults.

Books like Kipling's "Just So Stories," which are too difficult for the beginning reader, are wonderful material for Mother or Dad to read to him.

A child should read books that are too easy for him. After he has learned to recognize all the words he can relax and enjoy reading. He will also build confidence, comprehension, and speed. A rule of thumb: If a child makes more than five errors on a page, the book probably is too difficult and should be replaced with something easier.

The public library is the best source of easy-to-read books. The librarian is trained to help select material of the right level. Let the child help select his own books. They must excite him and make him want to read. Then the weekly trip to the library will become an adventure.

Don't overlook the reading materials at hand. Children enjoy the comics in newspapers and magazines. They can be taught to search for news items and explore the captions of pictures.

Set aside a regular time to read. A short period daily will produce the best results. A daily reading chart to be filled in by the child often adds interest and helps remind him.

It isn't necessary to sit and watch your child read. But be sure to listen if he asks for your attention and offer help if he requests it. If a word is needed, let the child first try to guess it. This helps him to think. Take a few minutes to discuss briefly what was read. Reading is understanding, not word calling. Be sure accounts $1,260 and welfare on poor relief, $909.

The Inventive Gov. Nelson

In the sleepless competition that is contemporary politics in America the candidate who is most ingenious in devising ways to attract favorable attention to himself is the man who prospers most regularly on election day. During recent weeks with some admiration, we have watched Gov. Nelson, a man who has learned the lessons of practical politics well, make fresh contributions to that fluid art which is personal political promotion.

The governor, a candidate for U.S. senator in the fall, has been making an unusual number of trips to Washington lately. The bare fact that the governor makes a trip to consult with the hierarchs of the national establishment is worth an item in the papers. But the governor adorns his announcements with popular tags. He wants to talk about farm or conservation or education, or economic planning problems, or other topics that are likely to have a sizeable capacity for attracting notice.

The national government today is so generously financed and has so many scores of grant-in-aid programs and consultant services and such a myriad of anxiously expanding bureaucratic empires that it is a poor stuck indeed, who cannot present a gubernatorial calling card in most of the offices on the Potomac and come away with some kind of prize for the home folks.

Thus on his last journey, Mr. Nelson was able to announce that he had wangled $500,000 for another phase of the development of the "Wisconsin state plan" and a couple of lesser handouts for other projects in which he and his administration are currently engaged. For all we know, he could have snared these goodies by writing a letter to Washington and saving the plane fare of himself and his lieutenants. From the standpoint of personal political publicity, however, it is better to make it appear that the leader is there, militantly, persuasively, getting his state's share of the fat national tax treasury.

But what impressed us more about the Nelson flair in this field was the series of releases he has produced lately saying that one or the other of the government agencies has been "interested" in or "impressed" by or will "consider" or "study" various other projects and propositions that the state administration has proffered to the great Midas in the District of Columbia. This is a neat bit of political science indeed. The governor's Democratic national administration friends are not actually committed to unloosing any of their money but the man running in Wisconsin in a difficult campaign gets the credit for his salesmanship, nevertheless. If now and then they dispatch a small batch of second string bureaucrats to make a field trip as a part of the governor's campaign that is cheaper too than contracting literally for the cost of these mendicant propositions.

Helping Johnny Read

Whether Johnny is learning to read as well as he might still is a concern of parents and educators. An institute at St. Norbert College some days ago presented one method which seems to have excellent results.

The phonovisual method, a combination of phonics and sight, as the name implies, was developed by two Washington, D.C. educators. Unable to get educators in their area interested, the Misses Josephine Timberlake and Lucille Schoofield, with the assistance of a convert, Mrs. Marie Buckley, opened the Primary Day School in Bethesda, Md. With the success of the school and the enthusiastic response of parents, the public school administrators in Washington are now taking a second look.

The phonovisual method teaches consonant and vowel sounds as does any phonics method but emphasizes that the sounds should be taught early and before a child learns to read rather than merely as he learns to read. Rules are kept simple because English actually has few that are consistent. Backers of the method are particularly concerned that no child fail. They insist that any normal child can learn to read and read well in the primary grades and the simple charts and methods of the phonovisual give the youngster a sense of security. He comes to realize that no matter how baffled he may become, there is somewhere he can find the answer or a set of clues.

It probably is just as well that professional educators do not snap up every new idea that is presented in education. But sometimes it appears that they cling too tightly to approved methods that come through channels instead of experimenting once in a while. The phonovisual method of teaching reading would appear to be worth the risk.

The Doctors' Real Work

Because of their active participation in the fight against the Kennedy administration on medical care for the aged, the doctors of the nation have come in for both praise and criticism.

Many proponents of the King-Anderson medical care bill have thoughtlessly accused the doctors of fighting to preserve their own profits. The doctors have replied that in all probability they would be better paid and have fewer uncollectable bills under the proposed federal legislation. The doctors have had a difficult time trying to make the point that they are opposed to socialization of medicine because they believe this eventually would have very damaging effects upon the practice of medicine and almost certainly would result in a lower rate of care for the sick. They believe, of course, that the plan to set up a government program of care for the aged is only a first step to the socialization of the whole medical field.

In the midst of this struggle, a letter by Frank L. McOmber, registered pharmacist in the Society of Pharmacists in Industry, Highland Park, Ill., published in the Chicago Daily News, points to a fact relating to the practice of medicine that the public should have in mind. McOmber writes that "if the 1937 death rate were still operative, 4,400,000 healthy Americans now living would be dead."

The reader of the above should have in mind that members of his own family might be included in the figure. Further, McOmber says, such results do not "just happen". He said it was not "just coincidental that the greatest growth in the pharmaceutical manufacturing and research field also took place during this period."

The suggestion is that in America tremendous strides have been made in improving the medical care and treatment of the sick. The advances that have been made in medicine and in pharmacy under our free enterprise system during the past 25 years probably never has been matched in the world. The many loose charges that have been made about drugs and drug manufacturers and those about doctors all are answered by this one statistic which McOmber has given us. The truth of his statement should be apparent to anyone who has had need of drugs or medical treatment within recent years.

Query?

The Board of Education in Menasha had a considerable debate at a recent meeting upon whether or not physicians of the area should be requested to set up a schedule so that there always would be one in attendance at home high school football games. The argument centered primarily around whether it was a medical responsibility to the community or whether there should be some sort of remuneration offered.

But the real question is much more simple and basic. Is high school football such a dangerous sport that there is need for a doctor in the stands any more than at basketball games or track contests or dances featuring the Twist? And if it is, what is football doing in the curriculum of the tax-supported public schools?

Ezra Taft Benson Would Do It Again

BY R. GREG NOKES

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Ezra Taft Benson no longer labors in the vineyards of America.

He could look over the fence with some detachment as his predecessor struggles in the Department of Agriculture with those same old weeds, surpluses and a new one that has cropped up: Billie Sol Estes. He could, but he doesn't.

Some of those who once felt strongly about the former secretary may have mellowed since his passing from Washington. But Benson feels just as strongly as ever about what he fought eight long years for.

"Whenever the government attempts to take over a segment of our economy involving fixing prices and rationing the right to produce and (takes over) handling of vast quantities of privately produced products, it invites trouble," says Benson.

Need Less Control

And trouble it has, both surpluses and Billie Sol. Benson feels both stem from the same source—government intervention in agriculture.

"What we need is less government in agriculture and more freedom for farmers," said Benson, who was not at all displeased when a coalition of Republicans and some Democrats defeated President Kennedy's farm bill that would have imposed

One of the targets for cuts on both parties during the Eisenhower years was defense, determined Ezra Taft Benson. As for Estes, being both tried and true, Benson has a strong feeling about the man. He is a man who has been a part of the government for a long time and he is a man who has been a part of the government for a long time.

Former Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson, target of heavy criticism for his farm policies during his two terms in the Eisenhower cabinet, still sticks up for them. He is still for "less government in agriculture and more freedom for farmers." ## Legislators Have Had Difficult Time

BY JOHN WINGAARD

MADISON — There are vintage years in Wisconsin legislative history, and the 1961 Wisconsin legislature may have achieved such status.

No legislature that ever sat in Wisconsin has deliberated over a longer period and perhaps wrestled with such difficult matters.

Relatively few of the legislatures that have functioned in Wisconsin have produced results for better or worse that will be remembered longer.

The moment the legislature returned to its chambers three weeks ago it was certain to establish a new record for number of days of deliberations. This is the fourth segment of the session that started in January of 1961. The session has been so long-lived indeed that some members frequently confuse the tenure of their colleagues assuming that they are second or third timers when actually they are serving their first terms. The same error has been observed in the press galleries.

THE RECORD

To the citizen public it sometimes seems that the legislature is stalling and that these long sessions are not necessary.

Yet it is not always easy from the outside to judge fairly what is going on within the legislative halls. Chances are that an equal number of citizens chosen at random with regard to the existing political alignment and the effect of the legislature's deliberations on the subsequent voting in state elections, would have been no more successful in settling quickly such extraordinarily difficult questions as tax revision and reapportionment, to name just a few of the major questions that the current crop of Wisconsin lawmakers has had to resolve.

Wisconsin has had in this century half a dozen legislative sessions that became local historical landmarks. The session of 1905 clinched the domination of the state by the elder LaFollette then a young man. The session of 1911 produced more famed legislation than any other that has ever sat. The legislatures of World War I and World War II had difficult challenges. The sessions of 1945 and 1945, more recently produced achievements that set them above the average in the long series of legislative meetings since 1849.

DIFFERENCE

Most of them however were able to function without the unique circumstances that prevailed during the last 18 months—the division of partisan control of the state represented by a shrewd and self possessed governor and a determined and increasingly confident legislature led by the opposition party.

In a fair assessment the 1961 legislature has done as well as an equal number of almost any other group could have done—including perhaps 133 professors of political science.

There may be a hidden place, moreover in the exceedingly drawn out deliberations of this legislature resulting from the inconveniences and the costs to individual members. Once a legislative seat was a reasonably attractive thing to the man with a moderate amount of leisure and a lively sense of public responsibility. It no longer is so attractive. The man who might have thought that a $300 a month job the year around was sufficient to draw him into six months of service may have some reservations when it is pointed out to him that legislatures now work from eight to nine months or more.

This year, it is important to note there are legislators announcing their retirements from their jobs. That is contrary to the tradition of running until defeated or retiring only to seek a higher place.

Authors Give Tours of White House, New Inn

Authors give personal tours of possibilities of which she had seen, had become her home. One D.C., and the Coventry Forge Inn near Philadelphia in two of the new books on display at the Appleton Public Library this week.

Robert Keith Gray, on the White House staff under President Eisenhower, tells of the history and daily life of the home of the chief executive and his family in "Eighteen Acres Under Glass."

Set amid 18 acres of rolling lawns, the White House is a symbol to Americans. The care lavished on details of its upkeep, security and adaptation to the needs and desires of successive presidents is fascinating in its complexity.

Eisenhower Administration

About a third of Gray's book centers on the historical significance of the White House and its contents. The crux of the book, however, lies in the other two-thirds which cover the day-to-day implications of the later years of the Eisenhower administration.

Gray, as special assistant, then like's appointments secretary, and finally first secretary to the Cabinet, was privy to the most intimate insight into the structure of presidential schedules, the mechanics of political power, and the social manipulations of official Washington.

"Fine Food, Wine and Pickled Pine" by Ann Kilborn Cole is a refreshing blend of practical how-to material and the personal anecdotal record of the step by step building of a successful inn, not far from Philadelphia's Main Line suburbs.

Proxmire Hits Reserve Board

Says Actions of Group are Slowing Nation's Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., complained today that Federal Reserve Board actions are slowing the nation's economy while other powerful forces are demanding a tax cut to speed it up.

Terming this "the height of absurdity," Proxmire urged a prompt investigation by the Senate House Economic Committee, of which he is a member.

"Present monetary policies are drastically reducing the free re- serves of our banking system and sharply increasing interest rates," Proxmire said in a letter to Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the joint committee.

At the same time, Proxmire said, major business, labor and other organizations are asking "a substantial tax cut to get the economy moving," and President Kennedy has proposed a tax cut next year.

Proxmire said that during June the Federal Reserve reduced bank funds available for loans by selling federal obligations which cut free reserves from roughly $500 million down to about $300 million.

At the same time interest rates rose on federal, state, local and private obligations, he added.

If these trends continue and Congress enacts a tax cut, Proxmire said "this would perhaps be the first time in the nation's history when the two great instru- ments of economic policy in our vacation retreat on the shore of nation were deliberately and si- multaneously set off in opposite directions."

Proxmire said the consequences

Cubans Under Castro Held in Paper Chains

Idea "The people's voices are their ballots" he said in a television trade

However the only voice heard in Cuba is Castro's or those of his echoing henchmen

The responsible press has long been confiscated and put under government wraps. The regime's semi-official newspaper, Revolution and Hoy, the Communist daily, provide a propaganda platform. Only one still functions and that is under government supervision.

U. S. movies are banned. Television viewers recently heard a broadcaster declare "Rats sneak around and rent American films and gather a group of pals and show them in their homes." He coupled the "rats" with service station operators who will not sell oil except to those who buy gasoline. The culprits, he vowed would receive "very severe punishment."

Single Labor Union

Labor under Castro will soon be merged into a single, pliable group of 500,000 members known as the National Agricultural Workers Union. This consolidation will make it easy for Castro to manipulate the country's working force.

Personal property is becoming a dream of the past. Under the urban reform law, no Cuban may own more than the house or apartment in which he lives. Rents are paid to the government. All the property of exiles, including homes, cash, jewels, clothes, and land is seized. They are allowed to take out only three changes of clothing. If they sold their auto within a year of their scheduled departure they must repurchase it and turn it over to the government.

Construction is almost completely within the government's province. No one may chop a tree without getting official approval. Castro, who has frequently boasted of his home-building projects, unwittingly revealed last month that the program was not going according to plan. Said the bearded leader in his unequalled rhetoric:

Cheaper Homes

"We have come to a conclusion we are making homes too beautiful, too perfect. We have decided that with the cost of 10,000 homes of the type that we have been constructing we can make 30,000 more modest homes. Let us adapt ourselves to reality and make more economical houses."

Despite the legalized banditry and octopus-like control, the Castro regime is a poor provider. A citizen suggested to Hoy that the works of art in the National Museum be sold and milk cows purchased with the money.

The food rationing system includes strict controls over the sale, purchase and distribution of staples. Private purchase of more than 25 pounds of food a week from farmers is punishable by a jail term up to 180 days for the buyer and the seller. Unauthorized carriers of more than 25 pounds of food on the highways may be sentenced to six months in prison.

Definition of OAS

Children are a special target. Fanatical chauvinism is not so subtly injected into the island's teaching program. Textbooks preach the Castro party line and contain such definitions as: "The Organization of American States is an organization utilized by Yankees to force its policy on Latin American states."

The ideals of the Boy Scouts have been perverted. They are taught that, "to be patriotic, to love Cuba, you must support the government's program."

To reach minds at an early age, " infant centers" have been established at which children are taught the revolutionary song by rote.

At the schools, public and parochial have been nationalized. The University of Havana, the country's largest and intellectual center, is headed by Dr. Juan Marinello, veteran chairman of the Cuban Communist party.

Crop Prices Fixed

Farmers must sell their crops at prices dictated by the government and buy their seeds, fertilizers and insecticides from the state. They cannot use their land on credit. "If you can't pay, you can't farm."

Penalties for a farmer who has been a communist for 10 years are:

1. Imprisonment for 10 years.

2. Fines ranging from $100 to $500.

3. Confiscation of property.

Workers are paid with prizes.

Flat Feet May Require Operations, Not Shoes

BY JOSEPH D. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Several of my footsores friends and I have noticed a shop that claims it can make really comfortable shoes. They are quite expensive, but as I am on my feet all day, and suffer the agony of an improperly anesthetized Indian fakier no matter what shoes I buy, I'd like your opinion on these new ones that are made from casts of the feet — H.M.

There's no doubt about it, when your feet hurt, you're just plain miserable. But the cause of aching feet (and this is an answer to quite a few recent letters) isn't always because they are flat. Many flat feet are painless and durable.

A foot, after all, is a complicated mechanism with 26 bones plus a network of ligaments and muscles. Many things can go wrong — and a "flat foot" can be specifically many different things. In general the arch of the foot is built something like a flexible bridge. When it "gives" somewhere, you have a flat foot.

Surgery on Foot

Frequently a flat foot can be brought back into normal position with arch supports and the like, but this has to be done before it has "set" in its faulty position. In that case special treatments, and perhaps surgery, may be needed to free the bones and muscular patterns so they can resume proper position again. This fact is too often overlooked. People try — and I suppose it's natural enough — to "do it themselves" and get nowhere because a pad here or a prop there or a different-shaped shoe doesn't correct the underlying fault. Hence a special shoe no matter how carefully made cannot be guaranteed to bring comfort. Oh, well-fitted shoes are important, without question, but if my feet hurt (which they don't) I'd go to a podiatrist or to an orthopedic surgeon. Once the foot is back in normal position, or as close as can be achieved, then well-fitting shoes, whether custom made or otherwise, will help keep the feet that way.

And, by the way, barefoot exercises, while simple, are still good — turning the ankles, rocking on the feet, standing on tip-toes, massaging the bottoms of the feet, just plain wiggling the toes — all these help strengthen the foot structure.

Too Much Ticking?

Dear Dr. Molner: Please write something about tickling, such as a father always tickling his son. The boy is school age now — T.D.

There's nothing fatal about tickling — despite fables to the contrary about being "tickled to death." On the other hand tickling, after a little bit of it gets to be a bore for the ticklee.

A little tickle for a chubby baby in the tub seems to be fun for the child as well as papa or mama. However, when it is continued year after year, it probably gets to be quite a nuisance for the youngster. I don't know that it can hurt him physically, but it's certainly not good for a child to grow up with a suppressed desire to punch his dad in the nose for too much tickling. I strongly urge that in this case daddy stop doing it. If nothing worse, such continued tickling is at least as bad as the husband or wife who insists on telling the same old joke until the spouse is ready to commit mayhem.

Correction

Payments to Mrs. Dorothy D. Vance, New London, who was divorced from Elmo A. Vance, Appleton, are $40 a week support and $10 a week alimony. A story in Saturday's Post-Crescent incorrectly listed the payments as the feet, just plain wiggling the toes.

U. S. Has Shelter For 50 Million If Nation Hit

NEW YORK (AP)—A civil defense official says the nation has sufficient space to shelter from 50 to 60 million persons from nuclear fallout.

William P. Durkee, director for federal assistance of the Office of Civil Defense, said his department hopes to have 235 million shelter spaces in homes, schools, transit facilities and at places of employment by 1967.

Durkee spoke Sunday at the opening of the 27th annual conference of the National Association of County Officials.

Robert E. Condon, New York City civil defense director, told the group "all indications" are that there is enough shelter space in the city to protect the population against fallout.

Kennedy Says U. S. Anxious to Settle Texas Land Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy said this week the United States is eager to settle a dispute involving 630 acres in El Paso, Tex., which Mexico wants to make Mexican territory. Kennedy conceded it is a matter "difficult to solve."

The controversy is caused by a change in the course of the Rio Grande River. It is known as the Chamizal case because the area involved once was covered by brush, for which the Spanish word is chamizal. The matter has been a sore spot in Mexico-U.S. relations for more than half a century.

Europeans Confused By Kennedy Talk

Interdependence by Nations of Europe Sought by President

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

GENEVA — President Kennedy's address at Independence Hall on July 4 was a bit confusing to Europeans. They couldn't tell whether he was forecasting a United States of Europe along the lines of his own country or whether, despite a loose use of words, he was trying to indicate that Europe might well have a federation or alliance as each country retained its sovereignty.

Mr. Kennedy was on firm ground as he extolled the idea of independence and as he rejoiced in the recently intensified movement away from colonialism throughout the world. He was logical, too, when he spoke of a declaration of "interdependence," for this concept means a "partnership" or strengthened alliance as between Europe and America.

The puzzlement developed, however, when Mr. Kennedy carried his analogy further, as he said:

Lawrence

South Africans Heap Ridicule On U. S. Envoy

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—G. Mennen Williams, assistant U. S. secretary of state for Africa, comes under almost constant ridicule in the South African press.

Die Transvaler, official daily of the ruling National party and mouthpiece of Prime Minister Hendrik Verwoerd, calls him "Soapy" and cartoons him in an exaggerated bowtie.

The paper's political columnist quoted a Williams statement on African conditions, then added: "Anyone reading the above idiocy scarcely has to be told the source. The speaker can be only one man: Soapy Williams, President Kennedy's insult to Africa."

When Williams toured southern Africa last year he missed only South Africa because the government found it "inconvenient" to receive him at the time. The Nationalist commentator recently declared that "no convenient time is likely to be found before the year 2000."

11,749 Children Counted at Parks In Last Two Weeks

KIMBERLY — Attendance at playgrounds in Kimberly and the Combined Locks was 11,749 for the first two weeks of activity, according to Gil Frank, recreation director.

The first week showed 6,197 and the second week showed 5,552. Figures include three parks in Kimberly and two in Combined Locks.

Europe today have any such idea in mind as they applaud for economic purposes the building of the "Common Market"? Do the people of France or Britain, for example, intend respectively to give up their independence and sovereignty as the various states of the American union have been forced to give these up through decisions of the country's highest court? Or is it contemplated that each member country will continue to run its domestic affairs and will simply give up something of its sovereignty insofar as military and foreign policies are concerned?

Financial Emphasis

Plainly the emphasis in Europe today is on the financial and commercial advantages of a trade union which can deal singly with the United States and other countries on tariffs. But certain countries like Sweden and Switzerland are making it plain that they do not mean to go in for any "political association." The idea of a United States of Europe has its champions in all parts of Europe but the proposal could hardly win a majority vote in any country at this time. In fact, refutation of prophesies that the "Common Market" is merely the forerunner of another internal union like that of America means in many quarters the putting up of roadblocks to an endorsement of the "Common Market" organization in various countries, including Great Britain.

Obviously it is better for America to deal with a single entity in trade matters than with diverse governments. That is why perhaps Mr. Kennedy is boosting unity in all its aspects. He said in his Fourth of July speech:

"We will be prepared to discuss with a united Europe the ways and means of forming a concrete Atlantic partnership, a mutually beneficial partnership between the new union now emerging in Europe and the old American union founded here 173 years ago."

France Unlikely

Realistically, however, General de Gaulle, for instance, hasn't any notion whatsoever of transferring the sovereignty of France to a political union like that which prevails in America. Nor would any French president or premier dare to advocate such a course.

External confederation is all that the majority of Europeans have in mind today. Thus, the London "Times," in commenting on the Kennedy speech, emphasized the idea of an "alliance."

and said that the President is participating in supervised play, seeking "a genuine partnership including 1,087 boys in the base-based on growing equality and ball and softball programs. At shared responsibility." The attendance the second week was 5,552 with 1,137 in the softball United States isn't trying in any way "to crab the scheme" of a "Common Market."

For in truth, the United States doesn't regard the "Common

Dale Novatney, 13, of rural West Bend, a non-swimmer, drowned Sunday in Big Cedar Lake where he had gone with a group of friends. His companions said he was not missed until his body was sighted in the water.

A woman tentatively identified as Mrs. Sidonia Mae Heitzmann, 40, of Port Washington, drowned in Lake Michigan off Terry Anderson State Park Sunday. Police based the identification on a wallet and other articles found in a parked car. Curtis Eigenfeld of Milwaukee said he heard the woman shout and saw her lose her grip on an air mattress to which she had been clinging.

Eigenfeld said he swam out and started to tow the woman to a sandbar but lost his grip when she began to struggle. The body was not recovered immediately.

Felipe Galavan, 34, of Milwaukee, drowned despite his life jacket Sunday when the rowboat in which he was riding capsized in the undertow near the Grand River dam a few miles from Montello. Galavan was the father of six children.

Rescued were Eugene Gates, 26, of Madison; Mrs. Evelyn Osburne, about 40, of Waukegan; and Mrs. Osburne's daughter, Deanne, 16 months.

Played It Too Cool?

Benny Satisfied With Russian Goodwill Trip

MOSCOW (AP)—Benny Goodman says he is satisfied his six-week jazz tour of the Soviet Union was a success—despite some grumbling among the hands men that he played it too cool.

America's "King of Swing"

Good-Will Tour Hit by Congress

Committee Ponders Worth of Sending Comedian Abroad

By JOHN BECKLER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Comedian Joey Adams may have wowed them in Afghanistan, but his State Department sponsored goodwill tour last fall was a flop with a House Appropriations subcommittee.

In fact, the whole cultural exchange program under which performers are sent abroad to win friends for the United States is viewed dimly by the subcommittee, which holds the purse strings for the operation.

Testimony made public today on the State Department's request for $4.1 million to run the program through fiscal 1963—up $1.2 million from last year—contains pages of hostile questioning of department witnesses.

Rep. John J. Rooney, D-N.Y., chairman of the subcommittee, described the papers supporting the budget request as "a scenario." He concentrated most of his attack on the four-month tour of Afghanistan and Southeast Asia by Adams' troupe of 23 performers.

He produced reports from State Department posts in the areas visited by the troupe disclosing bitter feuding among the performers that led to a near fist fight in Saigon between Adams and drummer Buddy Rich.

Max Isenbergh, a deputy assistant secretary in charge of the program, acknowledged under questioning that the department received reports "the conduct of many of the troupe, including Adams, had been damaging."

Isenbergh insisted, however, the personal differences among the troupe were kept off-stage and did not interfere with the audience reaction to the show, which he called "excellent."

Rooney retorted there was no way of telling what such shows accomplished, and that anyway, at a total cost of $256,000, including $1,200 a week for Adams, the price was too high.

Goodman and the band were flying to the West today. Most members were going to New York but Goodman was planning a brief holiday in England.

Goodman said "Strangely enough I was in accord with the Russians. That was the last thing I wanted. I wanted applause from the audience—that was all I wanted."

Speaking at a farewell luncheon for Western correspondents, Goodman disclosed that both American and Soviet authorities had been apprehensive about the tour, which was bankrolled by the U.S. government as a goodwill gesture.

The tour struck a snag that delayed Sunday night's final concert 20 minutes when members of the band demanded to be paid off before going on. There was no explanation for the delay in hand-outing the paychecks.

Negro trumpeter Joe Wilder of New York sat out the concert in protest against a deduction in his salary for what Goodman aides said was excess baggage he took along with him to Moscow.

But a sell-out crowd turned out at Lenin Sports Palace for the windup and called the band back for 20 minutes of encores.

The tour brought live American jazz to Moscow, Sochi, Tiflis, Kiev, Leningrad and faraway Tashkent.

An estimated 180,000 persons heard the band and most of them applauded enthusiastically. There were exceptions, but many of these were older people or Communist party members who demurely sat on their hands.

The rest frequently went to great trouble to show their enthusiasm for the visitors from America. Some had difficulty with the police.

Some Discontent The applause would have been even greater if the band had not suffered from a certain amount of internal dissension. Goodman preferred older tunes while the band wanted hot, modern stuff.

The resulting disagreements—plus Goodman's casual manner of leading the band—sometimes produced performances that were not first rate.

Still, everyone connected with the tour considered it a successful contribution to the improvement of Soviet-American relations.

The U.S. Embassy also indicated it was satisfied with the tour. The embassy's cultural officer, Eugene Staples, said, "The success of the tour has amply justified the choice of Mr. Goodman."

Changing Colors Used To Record Time in Inexpensive Device

CHICAGO (AP)—An inexpensive timing device that employs a chemical that changes from green to white upon exposure to air has been developed by Armour Foundation research chemists.

LF Britz, who developed the timer from an idea by Felix D. Kolben, said it might be employed as an inexpensive substitute for parking meters. Motorists would simply purchase a supply of color tickets, peel off an adhesive coating from the ticket and place it in the window of the car. If the car was parked overtime the ticket would turn from green to yellow to white.

Unimpressed Chicago parking officials said the system would not work as efficiently as parking meters.

But Armour chemists are working on other applications, including a cooking timer and a clock on the age of packaged foods.

Activities to Please the Family Planned as Independence Day Celebrated in Fox Cities

Allan Sitterson, dressed as a clown, amused the youngsters at Riverview Country Club Wednesday. Below, Butte des Morts Golf Club's small set tried its collective hand at games of skill. Trying to ring the clowns are Mary and William Osten, Wilmette, Ill., grandchildren of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Frawley. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Osten.

Family day activities were in order for the Fourth of July observance at Butte des Morts Golf Club, Riverview Country Club and North Shore Golf Club.

Children's swimming and games and a father and son baseball movie began at 3:30 p.m. at North Shore Golf Club. A family dinner was served on the terrace from 6 to 7 p.m.

At Butte des Morts Golf Club, games, races and pony rides were scheduled for the younger set. Family golfing began at 3:30 p.m. Supper was served outdoors.

Riverview Country Club featured a program at the pool. Diving, swimming demonstrations, races and water ballet were included in the performance. Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Koch and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Marston Jr., were co-chairmen.

Absolute Determination is apparent on the face of 2-year-old Michael Myers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Myers, Boulder, and grandson of Mrs. William Roberts, Neenah. The little boy was not to be overcome by a beach ball bigger than he and finally managed to find a way to transport it to his satisfaction. Below, also at North Shore Golf Club, children had the fun of choosing their own steaks for dinner. Pointing out to chef Giles Gutowski the one that suits them are Julie Hamilton, David Williams, Lynn Hamilton and Debbie Williams. Julie and Lynn are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hamilton, and David and Debbie's parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Williams.

Members of Riverview Country Club enjoyed a demonstration of swimming and diving skills Wednesday. Above, Miss Hope Hollenbeck arches her back in a dive. Also on the agenda was a water ballet. Area clubs planned their National Birthday celebration for family enjoyment, beginning with noon luncheons and following through with children's activities and dinner. (Post-Crescent Photos)

Make Cook Chef's Cap

Your Summer barbecue parties are in full swing. The cook is probably bedecked in his own special barbecue apron but does he have a chef's cap? Let's not do things half way! If we're going to be the chef, he must be in full dress uniform. It isn't complete without a cap.

Pat Scott

You'll need 3/4 yard gingham check one package each of four colors of hot iron tape

To make: cut a gingham circle 12 inches in diameter. Cut a strip five inches wide and the length of your head measurement plus one inch.

2 Draw motifs such as spoons and forks on paper. Cut them out and use as patterns. Cut hot iron tape motifs using patterns in the different colors.

3 Apply all hot iron tape motifs to the gingham circle. Be sure to follow the directions on the package so that the motifs will adhere properly. When placing them on the circle, do not put them in a set pattern. Scatter them around and be sure that each motif is at least two inches from the edge of the circle.

4 After all motifs have been applied, run two rows of machine gathering stitches around the circle, the first row 1/2 inch from the edge and the second 1/4 inch from the edge. Fold circle in half and then in quarters. Place pins at quarter folds along the edge to mark quarters.

5 Machine stitch ends of gingham strip together, taking a 1/2 inch seam. Press seam open. Fold strip in quarters and place pins to mark as shown in figure 1.

6 Place wrong side of circle to right side of band and pin together at quarters, matching pins. Draw up gathers on circle to fit band distributing them evenly. Pin and baste together all around. Machine stitch 1/2 inch from the edge (fig. 2).

7 Turn band over to outside of hat and press seam line. Fold and press band in half lengthwise. Turn raw edge under 1/2 inch and top stitch to hat over the gathers (fig. 3).

Splash Party Plans Listed

High Fashion Reflects Good Decorating Taste

BY JEAN SPRAIN WILSON
Associated Press Fashion Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — A woman should dress herself as if she were decorating a house, out-of-town fashion writers were told Sunday at the opening event of the New York Couture Group's semi-annual style preview.

They also learned by observation that if a woman is well dressed, a well dressed house—or any other kind of a house—is the last place you'll find her.

Most of the fall and winter fashions demonstrating the haute decor theme were elegant daytime costumes and opulent ball gowns—the kind of status symbols that are a waste unless you take them beyond the front door to be admired and perhaps be photographed for the society pages.

Decorating Taste Applies to Clothes

Fashion's exterior decorators such as Arnold Scaasi, Adele Simpson, Pauline Trigere, Burke Arne and others had clothes on hand to prove that the same rules apply to the feminine figure.

They used silk as their fabric since this event was the international silk show.

They proved that the product of the cocoon can be maneuvered and woven and brushed and combined with other organic and inorganic materials in so many ways that it can turn out woolly, hairy, nubby, sleek, slippery, shimmery and wispy.

Honey Influence Non-Existent

But it just can't be honey. Toward the end of the parade of non-business suits and strictly social gowns there appeared some at home costumes. A yellow velvet jacket by Adele Simpson for instance twinkled with crystals like a chandelier.

Another hostess gown by Jane Derby featured a tufted satin skirt that fitted nicely into the interior decorating theme of the evening. There were some sensuous draped chiffons—but really not what you would want to wash the dishes in.

To illustrate that a dress designer must pay as much attention to construction detail as the builder and with as much regard for shape as the architect, the pretty models appeared in a variety of silhouettes. These included the spare princess style, the natural body line and the suit with the hip-conscious full skirt.

Eric Lund's space age silhouette—a couple of double coned rocket shaped dresses were applauded enthusiastically, not only because they were breathtaking but because space is also important in any home decorating.

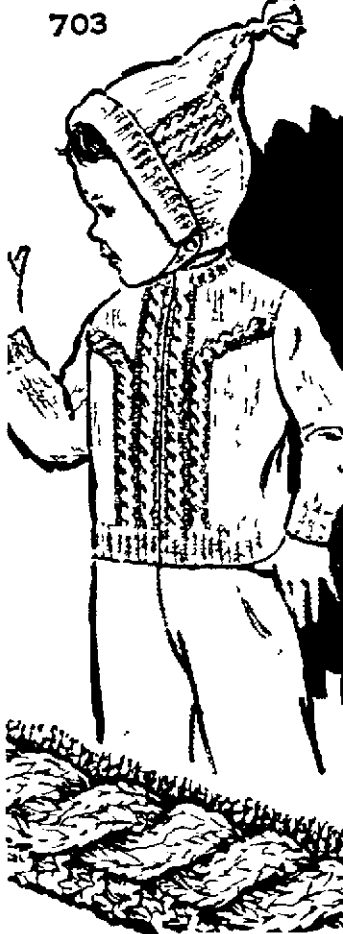

Fashion creators stole the color combinations right out of the paintings on the wall—Gogas Van Goghs and Picassos and the like. Manikins including actress Joan Bennett's daughter Stephanie Wanger on her first modeling assignment decorated the otherwise bland scenery with combinations of vivid yellow and blue silk, satin, green and peacock blue.

Not homey either but nice were Scaasi's touches of black mink with antique copper satin.

This was not the type of show for the lady who decorates not only her house but herself on a budget. But it was the kind her dreams are made of.

You often hear a bridge player say "After all, I wasn't looking at all four hands." In some cases this is a poor excuse for missing the correct play. It's possible to know all four hands even if you're not looking at them.

of clubs. South continues with the jack of clubs to East's queen. If East returns a heart or the queen of spades he is just pushing. A real bridge player should be able to call the South hand practically card for card and he should find the correct defensive play.

South's opening bid of two no-trump shows 22 to 24 points, counting 4 for each ace, 3 for each king, 2 for each queen and 1 for each jack. There are exactly 40 such points in the entire deck.

Should Count

East should count the points he can see to locate the points that are still missing. There are 13 points in his own hand, 4 in the dummy and 1 point in West's opening lead. These total 18 points, leaving only 22 points in the rest of the deck.

South must hold every single one of the missing 22 points for his opening bid. In short, East

Designer Performs Style Tricks; Lowers Hemline

BY JEAN SPRAIN WILSON

NEW YORK (AP)—James Galanos, one of the big four of American coutouriers, sneaked the controversial hemline an inch below the knees Friday as he introduced his $100,000 collection to press and buyers.

But he balanced out everything beautifully by subtracting from the top whatever amount of fabric he had added to the bottom of his costumes.

A Californian who does not have to cope with winter winds provide some warmth in the form of casually tied great, looped wool played his gaunt models in what he terms the "bare minimum" quilted velvet stoles that swirled.

For daytime wear these included naked wool jerseys—sleeveless with scooped or plunging v-necks—worn over ample skirts.

By the time the ball gowns were on the scene the minimum had become even barer. There were strapless tubes of wool, naked columns of weighted pastel crepe, cylinders of ribbon lace velvet, plain velvet or brocade. Rarely was there a shoulder strap.

Magic Fabric Tricks

This is a feat of fabric architecture when you consider that Galanos models, gaunt in the first place, had pared off five to ten pounds for this show and there was not much of them left for holding up dresses.

The spare young designer is a magician with invisible construction tricks. Those lengthened front skirts have hidden pleats front, back and sides. Flared center so pleats and hidden closings on coats is more sleight of designing hand that make them appear to hem lengths.

On the club's agenda is attendance at the Attic Theatre's July 14 performance of "Mr. Roberts." Members will also attend a Foxes baseball game July 17. They will meet at 7:15 p.m. at St. Joseph School.

The Ailing House Wants to Protect Oak Bench

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q I have acquired an old bench which had been used to cut up meat after butchering. The top is an oak slab, four inches thick, with the legs pegged in slantwise. By trimming the legs down a little, it is ideal for a garden bench. The wood has never been finished. How should I make it for outside use so that it will not split?

A Sand all wood surfaces very smooth and remove all dust, then use a solvent grime, etc., is removed. Then coat all surfaces with top quality spar or marine varnish, including bottom of legs which will be in contact with ground. When varnish is completely dry and hard, sand lightly and apply a second coat. This will protect the wood against moisture penetration.

Changing Color of Rug

Q I would like to change the color of a fiber rug. What can I use that would not peel or wear off in a short time?

A Fast-setting awning or canvas paint can be used, or a vinyl plastic spray paint, or plastic rubber fabric paint for use in re-finish awnings, peach chairs, fiber rugs, etc. These products, many in aerosol form, are available at many housewares and paint dealers; whichever product is used, label directions must be carefully followed.

er, but it is still stained. The walls are dry wall, painted several times but never papered. What can I use to prepare the walls for repainting?

A To remove penetrated grease in the dry wall, cover the stained area with a thick paste of powdered whiting or other absorbent powder and a non-flammable liquid spot remover. Place a sheet of thin plastic over this to retard evaporation. The sure all trace of grease, soot, spot remover acts as a solvent grime, etc., is removed. Then on the grease and the powder like coat all surfaces with top quality spar or marine varnish, including bottom of legs which will be in contact with ground. ## Tonsil Operation for Princess Alexandra

LONDON (AP)—Princess Alexandra, 26-year-old first cousin of Queen Elizabeth II, will enter a hospital Sunday for a tonsil operation.

The princess has had several throat infections in the past two years, some while officially touring for the queen. Last week she cancelled a visit to Royal Air Force units in Germany because her doctors advised her not to travel by air.

Slick Tricks

We girls still have basin laundry —automatic washers notwithstanding. For most of us it's a pretty boring chore, too.

It could be less of a drag, though if we updated our methods. And that's where a few little hand-laundry accessories would help. Let's take a look at some of them.

A miniature plastic scrub-board is a great aid in washing gloves. Simply put on the gloves, deuse degrees and lay slices of bread them in thick soap suds, and run over the board. And away soil goes—in an instant!

Nylon stockings and small frag-

As your hands never touch the item being washed, there is no chance of snagging. No chance of water-soaked hands, either!

Lingerie comes clean in a trice, if you use a plastic under plunger. Its action simulates that of a washing machine, when the suds are repeatedly drawn through fabrics.

Thus your basic laundry is done in minutes with half the effort and twice the efficiency. For another boon, cream your face beforehand. The warm vapor from the wash water increases a cream's power to smooth your skin. Thus an easy task becomes a beauty treatment!

Advance Units From Fort Lewis To Return Home

2,300 Guardsmen to Prepare Armories for August Dismissal

FT. LEWIS, Wash. (AP)—Advance units of Wisconsin's 32nd Division will leave here for home July 25-26 to prepare for return of the division's main body after nine months of active duty, a spokesman says.

About 2,300 men of the National Guard division will leave early to unload vehicles and unit property at rail centers in Wisconsin

The rest of the Red Arrow Division, some 8,100 men, will depart Aug. 1-3, and arrive home six or seven days later. Division personnel are scheduled to be released from active duty Aug. 10.

Returns in Cars

Brig. Gen. John A. Dunlap, Whitefish Bay, assistant division commander, will lead the advance party.

The units will travel by private auto rather than military convoy or other government-supplied means. The latter will be used in some cases by the main body, the spokesman said.

The advance detachment will unload about 1,800 vehicles—including tanks, personnel carriers, trucks and jeeps—at Superior, Wausau, Appleton, Oshkosh, Madison, Milwaukee, Altoona, Stevens Point, Camp Williams and Camp McCoy.

Added Vehicles

Some 500 vehicles have been added since the division arrived here last Oct. 20, to bring it to authorized strength.

Advance parties will range from 200-man units representing each battle group to a tiny 16-man group to be sent by the 432nd Transportation Detachment of West Bend.

Maj. Richard C. Hanson, Verona, transportation officer, said plans are to carry the division's vehicles on 900 railroad flatcars. He said the division planned to ship baggage directly to the city where the unit is located, rather than to one of the rail centers.

Some Will Stay

Meantime, a division rear detachment of about 500 men will remain here until Aug. 16 to turn over equipment and buildings to control of the main post.

Armory drills will resume in Wisconsin Aug. 27 for the National Guardsmen, the spokesman said.

OSC to Share In Federal Aid For Housing

Government Grant Expected to Give State Big Savings

Oshkosh State College will share in a $3.7 million loan by the Federal Community Facilities Administration for housing and dining structures at Wisconsin's nine state colleges.

The Oshkosh project to be aided by the loan is a four-story residence for 496 coeds scheduled to cost $1,572,000.

Gov. Gaylord Nelson, whose office made the announcement today, said the loan will result in a substantial saving to the state because of low interest rates.

The money will pay for dining facilities for 970 more students, and residence halls for 1,572 men and 1,070 women.

The other projects are:

Eau Claire—Housing for 320 male students at a cost of $890,000.

La Crosse—Housing for 208 coeds—$592,000.

River Falls—Housing for 208 male students and 152 women and dining facilities for 360 students—$1,477,000.

Stevens Point—Four-story residence hall for 200 male students—$579,000.

Superior—Housing for 170 male students—$540,000.

Whitewater—Housing for 214 male students and 214 coeds—$1,319,000.

Platteville—Four-floor residence hall for 246 male students—$762,000.

Stout—Housing additions for 214 male students and dining facilities for 610 students—$972,000.

Two Fires Started by Children

Appleton firemen over the weekend extinguished two fires started by children, one in a home and one in a construction shack.

The fire department sent two trucks to the home of Thomas Hanks, 220 W. Brewster St., about 2 25 p.m. Saturday, after the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Hanks set fire to a mattress in a second story bedroom as he played with matches.

The mattress and part of the bed were burned. The fire damaged part of a wall and there was smoke damage to the entire second floor.

A construction shack at 1216 W. Wisconsin Ave., owned by August Winter & Sons, Inc., began burning after a 9-year-old boy tried to light a construction flare.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Bessette, 1036 W. Hawes Ave., brought their son, Ronald Jr., to the fire station after the fire. He admitted playing with the flare in the shack and lighting it with a match. The wooden floor of the shack caught fire, he said.

Cars Stolen in Appleton Found In Farm Fields

Appleton police Sunday recovered two stolen cars that thieves stole from the Sam Maki Sky Motel on Grand Ave. at 10:50 W. Wisconsin Ave. sometime Saturday night or early Sunday morning.

The thieves entered the used car lot and pushed in a closed garage door. When they found the cars, they took them and drove off.

Sam Maki, owner of the lot, was notified of the break-in by a neighbor, Mrs. Maki, who lives in the lot's office building.

He reported it to Appleton police.

Arthur W. Maki, route 4, Appleton, said the cars were stolen from his farm later Sunday morning. He found the cars in a field.

The thieves took two dealerships from the other and found them on the cars. Police found no other missing.

Leaders of the Grace Lutheran Church congregation took part in the cornerstone ceremony for the new church Sunday. From left are the Rev. Wilbur T. Troge, pastor; Everett Schmuhl, building chairman; Herman Gebheim, congregation president; and Earl Timm, church member. The $242,000 building is connected to the present church, which will be converted to a Sunday school and parish hall. The new church will be dedicated Sunday. (Post-Crescent Photo)

Skipper Don Jones Navigates Well

Attic's 'Mr. Roberts' Weighs Anchor on Sea of High Praise

BY JAY JOSLYN
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

A big splash was made as the Attic Theater weighed anchor for its 13th season Saturday night in that most "see"-worthy vehicle, "Mr. Roberts."

The handling of an unusually large cast and the solution of apparently unsurmountable technical difficulties indicated the kind of course Don Jones is charting for his first full term in chief command of the community theater group.

"Mr. Roberts" is a study of a heroic battle against boredom aboard a cargo ship in the "safe" Pacific during the last days of World War II. The script poses two problems; the atmosphere of ennui must permeate the scene, yet it must generate an undertone of tension capable of striking sparks, and the sundry sections of the ship must be reduced to believable pieces of stagecraft to create the illusion of reality within the limitations of an arena stage, while avoiding untoward delays.

Problem Solved

Phil Dixon, the production and stage manager, staging the show chiefly around a hatch, the pieces of which part to reveal cabins, solved the latter problem fully.

The former problem, however, was not solved completely although the measure was filled close enough to make for a most auspicious beginning of a season that promises many evenings of bright entertainment.

The most challenging chore in producing "Mr. Roberts" is the deliberation of vignettes by individual members of the crew. Jones recruited a most talented crew and moved them with authority. It is hoped that as many as possible of these young men find it possible to make further appearances with Attic.

The cloud whose shadow enforced the boredom aboard the cargo ship and served as Mr. Roberts' goad and nemesis is the person of the captain, a role played with finesse, fine rancor and a touch of comedy by Harry Millstein.

The ship's stabilizing force, the ship's physician, is creditably portrayed by Thomas McGuire, whose poise and style demonstrate his long, successful association with Attic.

Newcomer's Performance

A newcomer, Tom Lemons, provided a sparkling gem in the show's bullfinch, Ens. Pulver. Lemons is a champion golfer and in his Attic debut role he drove straight and true. Laurels surely await Lemons in this new pursuit. The title role is in the hands of Stephen Jolin, an actor of talent and understanding. The Mr. Roberts role is one of quiet strength. Opening night, Jolin was short on strength and energy. The omission, a minor one and surely one that will be remedied as the AK 601's crew is shaken down in ensuing performances, threw a corresponding pall over the production and dulled what surely will become a uniformly bright representation.

The Attic Theater's reputation is such as to create great expectation. An equal production by any other troupe would suffice for "Mr. Roberts" is a most worthwhile evening. Tonight the Arena Room of the Music-Drama Center at Lawrence is dark, but AK 601 will be back on the boards Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, and each performance will top its predecessor if the world is still spinning on its axis.

Scooter Rider Hurt in Spill

A young motor scooter driver, Suzanne Getschow, 19, 832 W. Eighth St., was treated for cuts and bruises at St. Elizabeth Hospital Sunday after her scooter tipped.

Appleton police said Miss Getschow was driving south in the 300 block of S. Locust St. about 2 30 p.m. She was taken to the hospital by Lindy's ambulance.

Summer Program Aids Handicapped

Appleton Gives Children Therapy, Activities in Unique Pilot Plan

Appleton's physically handicapped children are receiving an expanded and well-rounded program at Morgan School this summer.

The program includes arts and crafts, games, swimming and speech therapy, in addition to physical therapy which has received the chief emphasis in the past.

The program was planned and is being directed by Donald J. Gavinski, physical therapist on the Morgan School staff.

Five-Week Experiment
"This is a pilot program," said Rolland Nock, principal of Morgan School. "There is no other program like this in the state." The program will run for five weeks this summer, and the school hopes to expand it to eight weeks next year.

The co-operation of a number of groups and individuals has gone into the program. Elmer W. Grover, city director of recreation, has provided a leader for the arts, crafts and games aspect of the program, and has arranged for the group to use Meade Pool privately for one hour each Friday afternoon.

The United Cerebral Palsy organization provides a speech therapist. Volunteers from the Girl Scouts, the Xavier Key Club and individuals help with the program.

Volunteers Necessary
The 22 children are divided into two groups which attend school from 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. two mornings a week. The program would be impossible without the volunteer help, Gavinski said, because so much individual attention is required.

Miss Doris Denness, the speech therapist, worked with children at Morgan during the last school year. She is a specialist in working with children who have oral stut.

Miss Linda Langley is the recreation leader. Assisting her are five Girl Scouts from Troop 126: Donald Reicher, a member of the Xavier High School Key Club, and Kathy Wase, who is interested in speech therapy. The Girl Scouts are Maria Mueller, Paula Wetax, Louise Norke, Linda Butler and Kathy Downs. The mother is Miss Sandra Lamkes.

Actress Back at Work After Year's Absence

Carol Lynley Decides She's No Homemaker, Returns to Screen

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It seemed like the shortest retirement on record Carol Lynley was back at work after reportedly quitting movies a year and a half ago for the domestic life.

There she was working under the hot lights again roller skating with Richard Beymer for a second in "A Woman in July." But even under such circumstances she looked as fresh as vanilla ice cream while coolly denying an intention of quitting.

"Other people retired me for me," she said, skating around the syntax. "It was the brainstorm of a certain producer, who thought he would pull another Diane Varsi. Not mentioning any name."

I will Jerry Wald. He is the producer of "A Woman in July," as well as Miss Lynley's last picture before her so-called retirement. "Return to Peyton Place." I provide this service because Mr. Wald sometimes gets upset when his name isn't mentioned.

Got Married

During Carol's absence from the screen, she married publicist Mike Selman, settled in a home here and gave birth to a baby, named Margaret. Despite all this domesticity, retirement is furthest from her mind.

"I was miserable the whole time I was gone," she commented with refreshing candor.

"If the experience taught me anything, it is that I am entirely unsuited to be a housewife. My husband agrees with me, and he was delighted to see me return to work."

Not A Housewife

If she is a failure as a homemaker, what can she do?

Act

She has been doing it for half of her 20 years, having started early in New York. She did modeling, television and stage acting before being hauled to Hollywood for "Light in the Forest" at Disney's. Her most noted success was playing the unwed 15-year-old mother in "Blue Denim," both on Broadway and in films.

First Full-Length Play By Edward Albee May Make Debut in October

NEW YORK (AP)—The first full-length play by Edward Albee may reach Broadway in October.

The three-hour script, "Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" concerns a belligerent couple who refuse to separate despite their animosities. The young author won attention during the past two seasons with a quartet of one-act dramas.

New Booking Director For Shubert Theaters

NEW YORK (AP)—The new booking director for the 17 Broadway and six cross-country theaters operated by the Shubert chain is Jack Yorke, a veteran of 37 years in show business.

Yorke succeeds the late Jack Small in the executive post. Prior to joining the Shubert organization in 1956, he had been connected with the production activities of Cheryl Crawford, Vinton Freedley and the Theatre Guild.

Tonight Ends Career of 'Thriller'

BY TV SCOUT

9-10 (Channel 4-5)—Thriller ends its career with this week's show.

For the balance of the summer, the network will use this time period for repeats (plus one new show) of news documentaries. This last show, a repeat, is a slyly amusing story, written by Boris Sobelman especially for Edward Andrews. He plays a man who is worried because his rich old uncle is diminishing the family fortune by his hobby of restoring old mansions. While visiting one of these ancient houses, Andrews discovers that as he walks into one particular room he steps back into 1890, although he can still see 1962 out of the front door.

7-7:30 (Channel 2) — Pete and Gladys get married on tonight's repeat — and it isn't a flashback story. They find their first marriage was illegal (Pete signed on the wrong line) and naturally Gladys gets as much mileage as she can out of the situation.

8-9 (Channel 11) — Tonight's SurfSide 6 repeat was shot early in the season, but held back until April because neither Diane Mc-

Bain nor Margarita Sierra were in it — and they were the two biggest publicity lures on the show. This is a reasonably engrossing mystery, in which Van Williams tries to find out who killed the wealthy Mr. Lindon — after the man everybody thinks did has been tried and found innocent.

8-9 (Channel 2) — The Lucy-Desi Comedy Hour repeats the very first show which starred Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz in anything over 30 minutes in length. This is a musical comedy attempt, with new songs and several production numbers. The basic plot tells how Lucy met Desi in the first place, with Cesar Romero, Rudy Vallee and Ann Sothern along for the ride.

8-9 (Channel 4-5) — 87th Precinct repeats one of those stories about a perfect bank robbery. The brainy perfectionist is only caught by the wildest of coincidences. The plot — from one of Ed McBain's novels — sets things up for detective work to prove Robert Vaughn's undoing but then veers away from that line for the coincidental climax.

9-9:30 (Channel 2) — Hennessey repeats a rather pleasant story which featured Herb Ellis (as Dr. Dan Morgan) and gave Roscoe Karns (as Capt. Shafer) one of his biggest parts. Morgan, a distinct oddball, has been on the

Gaslights to Satellites — History of Maine Village

Bell Telephone to Use Andover For Ocean TV Broadcasting Site

BY DON GUY

ANDOVER, Maine (AP)—From gaslights to satellites — that's the history of this tiny Maine village. A year ago satellites were something folks read about in the city papers. Television reception wasn't very good because the village is located in a saucer of mountains in western Maine.

The party line telephone system used old-fashioned magneto handcrank phones.

You could tell a stranger in town because he'd drive up to the Scientists have spent $15 million at Andover, Maine, to make possible telephone conversations transatlantic satellite. But the fancy equipment has changed the people of Andover, who have no intention of giving up their friendly, handcrank, party line telephones.

Gas pump in front of H. S. Germaine and S. W. Germaine have someone put the gas in the tank.

Help Yourself

Townsmen swapping yarns on the bench in front of the store liked to see just how long it would take the stranger to realize that the world's largest "ear," a 340-lineman and night operator of the ton horn-shaped monster able to ATC store to wait on him, and he'd catch a faint whisper from a satellite several thousand miles high over the Atlantic Ocean.

Bell Telephone Laboratories has invested $15 million to date in its experiment at Andover. Engineers kept the start of operations secret because of the still boiling controversy in Washington over private vs. public ownership of a satellite communications system.

Sensitive Big Ear

Andover was selected because the ring of mountains cuts off microwave interference from distant television stations and telephone microwave relay towers.

The big ear is so sensitive it can pick up interference radiated by household appliances — and even people emit enough radiation to register on the big horn.

When a Telstar satellite is lofted into orbit this month from Cape Canaveral, television signals will be beamed from Andover for a bounce relay to a receiving station at Gosholm, down in Cornwall, England, and then to stations through Europe.

Need Bounce

Microwaves are able to carry a multitude of signals but since they move in straight lines a satellite is needed to bounce a signal over oceans where relay towers cannot be built.

When huge Bell Telephone decided it wanted to operate in Andover it first had to ask permission of the Andover Telephone Co., which holds the franchise for the area and has 186 subscribers.

"I didn't object to Bell Telephone coming into Andover," says A. R. Meisner, president, chief pictures of the satellite relay station on the front and back covers but there isn't a word about the $15 million station inside. The important news in a small town usually never gets into print. It would be dated anyway, since folks would have heard it days before at the general store or over the party line.

Although the station is costing about 20 times the taxable valuation of the whole town, the precise tax bite to be paid by Bell hasn't been settled yet. However, at the March town meeting folks voted to buy a $13,000 fire truck and to start planning for a $70-

000 grammar school. And nobody how they stand on the issue. If the money was coming from several thousand visitors each weekend throng to the satellite station now and help stir up local business.

Bell Telephone well aware of the need to get the public on its side in the communications controversy, has numerous guides on hand to show visitors the big horn and demonstrate with models how it works.

Andover citizens have no doubt needed, townspeople admit, because you have to holler so loud

Bell is allowed to continue private development, the company plans to build a cluster of four more antennae so that when 30 or 40 satellites are in orbit it can track several above the horizon at the same time.

Not Much Change

However, aside from the new fire truck for Chief Roger Mills, whose volunteers — summon firecracker.

The boy's father told police he erated — quelled 21 fires last year, the town isn't much changed by the big bubble.

Satellites will be able to handle section of U. S. 41 and Ill. 153 near thousands of transatlantic phone calls for citizens all over the United States, but telephone service in Andover isn't going to change a bit. Local people are proud of their independent little town to visit a friend on the Fourth of July.

Mrs. Bea Reed and Mrs. Cinda Dunn, Andover telephone operators, say their company gives its customers service far beyond that provided by bigger concerns.

Message Service

"If people are going visiting at night, they just tell us where and we relay calls to them," they explain. "We take messages and we notify the firemen or police in emergencies."

The switchboard is set up in Moiser's Grocery and Notion Store and customers help themselves and leave the money beside the operator when she's busy.

If the operator doesn't respond promptly, a caller knows she probably had to get up to cut and weigh some cheddar cheese.

"Where else can you make a phone call for five cents nowadays," asks Mrs. Reed, pointing to the double walled glass and oak paneled phone booth in the back of the store.

walked the first two men he faced in the last of the ninth and Don Muechler clubbed a three-run homer off Luis Arroyo to make it close.

Richardson and Tresh hit early inning homers with the bases empty while singles by Maris and Mantle sparked a three-run New York seventh inning rally that broke a 4-4 tie.

Charley Maxwell was the big gun in the White Sox sweep over Cleveland with six hits, including a homer and triple. The double loss snapped Cleveland's six-game winning string. Juan Pizarro struck out nine and limited the Indians to seven hits in the opener. Four unearned runs in the first inning of the nightcap made it easy for Ray Herbert.

Batting Lead

Pete Runnels' eighth inning homer was the difference in Boston's conquest of Los Angeles and boosted the Red Sox first baseman into the league batting lead with a .340 average. The homer gave Boston a 5-2 lead but Los Angeles rallied with two out in the ninth.

Jack Wood's hotly disputed triple, his fourth extra base hit of the day, in the ninth inning of the nightcap featured Detroit's double victory over Baltimore. Umpire Red Flaherty ruled Wood's long fly to right struck the screen while outfielder Russ Snyder was juggling it and Wood ended up with a triple. The Orioles argued for 10 minutes that it was caught cleanly. Moments later Bill Britton singled Wood in with the winning run.

Kansas City got its winning run in the 15th on an error. On an attempted squeeze play, the batter missed the ball and catcher Ken Retzer trapped Jerry Lumpe, who had been on third in a rundown. But Senator third baseman Ed Brinkman dropped Retzer's throw and Lumpe scooted home with the winner.

and retired Gus Bell on a liner to end the game. The victory went to Buhl, now 6-6.

Spahn went all the way in the second game taking career victory 317 and his eighth of the season against 10 defeats. He scattered 11 hits, walked a pair of Cubs and fanned four. He had been 0-9 on the road.

Second Homer

Joe Torre's second homer of the season gave the Braves a 1-0 lead in the second Chicago scored all of its runs and went ahead 3-1 in the fifth started by Rodgers with a triple. Milwaukee tied it in the sixth Spahn's single scoring Jones, who had singled, and Samuel on with a double.

Jones unloaded his 10th homer in the eighth and the Braves completed their scoring in the ninth as Roy McMillan walked Mathews singled and Adcock laid down a squeeze bunt, scoring McMillan.

Barney Schultz, the fourth of five Cub hurlers took the defeat his fourth against as many victories.

The Braves return to action Thursday entertaining St. Louis at Milwaukee County Stadium.

First Methodist Trips St. Mary In Makeup Game

the day in the ninth inning of the nightcap featured Detroit's double victory over Baltimore. Umpire Red Flaherty ruled Wood's long fly to right struck the screen while outfielder Russ Snyder was juggling it and Wood ended up with a triple. The Orioles argued for 10 minutes that it was caught cleanly. Moments later Bill Britton singled Wood in with the winning run.

Cheap Credit No Aid to Economy

BY SYLVIA PORTER

Thomas Alan Goldsborough Democratic Congressman from Maryland. You mean you can not push on a string.

Mariner S. Eccles, governor of the Federal Reserve Board. That is a good way to put it: one can not push on a string.

PORTER

This memorable exchange occurred on March 18, 1957, at the hearing of the House Committee on Banking and Currency on the Banking Act of 1945—more than a quarter century ago. Immediate

Now, though it is 1962, I am my Reserve did this successfully. Six years later, in 1958, when the economy was in a recession, you're not going to sit on your hands and wait for a tax cut. You're going to have to borrow lots of money to get out of it. The economy is not going to be held on a high plateau in the future. It may have even slipped from a strictly economic point of view. I find it harder and harder to understand the delay in monetary policy seeking ways to push on a string.

After 27 Years

Translated into terms of more basic capacity and your consumer spending on all sorts of things. This is the one anti-recessionary weapon we've got. It's the most powerful weapon of all. The President Kennedy says he's not going to make a decision on a tax rate until he's got more figures before him. But when the latest figures come in, I'll wait. They add up to the case for a tax cut, not a delay. You're not going to sit on your hands and wait for a tax cut. You're going to have to borrow lots of money to get out of it. The economy is not going to be held on a high plateau in the future. It may have even slipped from a strictly economic point of view. I find it harder and harder to understand the delay in monetary policy seeking ways to push on a string.
